

Declarations For Marriages

- Spouses will not crack under pressure.
- They will enjoy further exploring and getting to know each other together everyday.
- Any doubts they have about whether or not they made the right decision be gone now in the Name of Jesus.
- They will handle disagreements wisely and with God.
- Each spouse will uphold the vows they made before God.
- Spouses will recognize the purpose of their union and fulfill God's plan for their lives in partnership with Him and each other.
- They will not grow bored with each other.
- The same flame they had from the beginning shall continue to remain, grow and flourish.
- Any struggles faced and the resulting experiences will be used to better their marriage and each individual spouse.
- All marriages will be guided by the Holy Spirit, and each spouse shall be guided by the Holy Spirit individually also.
- May spouses first turn to God when struggling, but also be vulnerable with their spouses.
- May they not turn to other people or things outside of their marriage for relief.
- Spouses shall be a source of love and relief for one another.
- They will keep an open line of communication, honesty, and trust.
- Husbands and wives will be slow to anger in heated discussions, and each spouse shall intentionally listen to one another before speaking or preparing to speak.
- Spouses shall follow all standards given in Colossians three.
- Their marriages shall last for the remainder of their lives on earth.
- Your marriage shall remain healthy, and you will allow your successful marriage to set an example and positively impact your children and all who witness it.
- We speak against any attacks of the enemy against your marriage and we bind it now in Jesus' name.
- Marriages shall be bless with however many children God has predestined them to care for, and all children shall be born on time and healthy. We speak against miscarriages, premature births, stillbirths, and premature deaths now in the name of Jesus.
- Stepparents shall get along with their spouse's children and shall be respected by them.
- In the name of Jesus, your marriage is blessed and not cursed.

- We pray that those who have come in between someone else's marriage in the past be forgiven and not reap what they have sown by the grace and mercy of God in Jesus' name.
- Work, children, family, or other responsibilities shall not come in between quality time.
- Family and friends shall respect your spouses and be quickly reprovved when stepping out of line.
- Your marriage and household shall be financially stable.
- Both husband and wife shall use wisdom in financial, familial, and household affairs.
- Finances or arguments regarding finances will not cause conflict or come in between your marriage.
- Your love shall not recede for one another. Instead, it will grow more and more each day.
- You will treat each other with God's love.
- Spouses shall continue to desire each other and each other only.
- Neither husbands nor wives will struggle with sexual perversion, and they will limit their sex life and sexual activities to and with each other.
- Spouses shall continue to communicate honestly and openly with one another without shame, fear of judgement, or ill will.
- You shall be open and transparent in all communication.
- Spouses will handle any disagreements calmly in love without yelling, punishment, or recourse.
- Spouses will not hold out on one another, sexually, verbally or otherwise, and they will not lose their connection.
- If giving each other space to cool down, this time shall not be excessive nor further feed their issues.
- Spouses who have suffered trauma prior to marriage in prior relationships or otherwise shall be healed, and no trauma or damage shall linger or affect any current or future relationships.
- Spouses who have forgiven their spouse for cheating, abuse, disrespect, or any other major or heartbreaking offenses shall receive strength from the Lord and maintain their faith and patience.
- Spouses who have cheated, abused, disrespected, or hurt their spouse in any way shall seek God for wisdom and shall no longer be bound or burdened by shame after truly repenting and being forgiven by God.
- Forgiveness will be apparent for every marriage, and it shall be sincere and true forgiveness.
- Couples shall not be afraid of seeking godly counsel to help aid in repairing or maintaining a healthy marriage.
- Spouses will practice discernment in any godly counsel sought after or received.
- Neither sickness nor disease shall touch either spouse or members of the household, and no hardships shall prevail against them.

- Insecurities shall not influence your behavior in marriage, and any insecurities you have shall be dealt with and removed now in the name of Jesus.
- Husbands shall lead their households righteously and respect and understand their wives as the weaker vessel.
- Wives shall honor their husbands and serve them with respect and righteous living.
- Both spouses shall serve each other loving one another as they love thyselves without pride, ego, or unforgiveness.

Currently Separated Marriages

- By faith, spouses will receive wisdom from God now for their next steps.
- We decree and declare that God's love will fill them, and they will respond in love.
- They shall show grace and mercy to themselves, each other, and others.
- God's will shall be done in their lives and marriage.
- We decree and declare that their families have not been severely damaged or destroyed during this separation.
- We decree and declare that if it is in God's will, they shall reunite and regrow their bond with one another.
- Those who have reunited will never be separated again.
- In separation, spouses will not allow the enemy's lies to penetrate their minds nor will they allow issues to be worsened.
- Activities performed during the course of a separation shall be for the purposes of bettering themselves, the marriage, and the plan for reconciliation.
- Spouses will recognize the attacks of the enemy in the spirit, they will realize why the enemy does not want them together, and they will come together and spiritually fight back in Christ.
- Coparenting or any other household, financial, or familial affairs will not be affected nor corrupted in the middle of separation.
- Spouses who are separated shall seek God for help showing grace and mercy and seek God for help forgiving their spouse so that their prayers are not hindered.
- Any trauma either of the spouses have shall be healed now in the name of Jesus, and no pain shall linger or continue as they move forward in their lives.
- Both spouses shall take ownership for their parts and full responsibility for the causes of separation in their marriage and work to make peace.
- They will encourage each other to pray, read the word, and live righteously, and they shall be a healthy and righteous example for one another.

Marriages Facing Internal Abuse

- We decree and declare that anyone suffering from abuse in their marriage shall be set free.
- By faith, God will guide them and instruct them on their next steps.
- They will find safe shelter in the name of Jesus.
- The abusive party will get help in dealing with their issues.
- Trauma shall not overtake the receiver of the abuse, and they shall heal and not repeat the abusive behavior.
- The abused shall not seek retaliation, verbally or physically, and they shall pray for their enemies.
- Any children exposed shall be shielded and covered in the wings of the Lord, All-Mighty.
- Any spouse who was abusive will repent and receive forgiveness.
- Any spouse who must flee from abuse will receive all the support they need, and they will not lose their faith.
- Any abused spouse will not be fearful of sharing their testimony, and they will use it to empower those who relate for the benefit of leading them to salvation and helping them heal.
- Anyone abused shall seek God's help to forgive their offender and forgive in order to heal and also be forgiven.

Marriages Currently Suffering

- In the name of Jesus, we speak against any demonic spirits or attacks trying to cause your marriage to fail.
- We decree and declare that you will call on the name of the Lord, and your marriage shall be healed now in the name of Jesus.
- By faith, you will walk in love just as our Father in Heaven, and you will forgive each other for your wrongdoings.
- Spouses will be surrounded by great examples of marriage and thriving healthy and holy relationships.
- Your support system shall unite with you in bettering yourselves and bettering and saving your relationship.
- Anyone attributing to said failures shall be removed from your ears and/or circles of influence now in the name of Jesus.
- Spouses will be able to discern and weed out any persons with ill intent or advice towards them, their spouse, or their marriage.
- Spouses will begin to pray together and seek God as well as godly counsel for healing their marriage.
- By faith, we decree and declare that your marriage will not fail. You will not separate or depart from one another.

Engaged To Be Married

- They will honor God and live righteously.
- They will refrain from sexual sins and await the consummation of their marriage for relations.
- They shall not be swayed by the opinions and emotions of man, and they shall solely base their decision to marry their future spouse on the instruction from God.
- By faith, they will seek godly premarital counseling to further prepare them for the new responsibilities they may begin to assume in marriage.
- The marital goals they have set forth to accomplish in marriage will remain aligned with the will of God and in unison with God and each other.
- They shall be equally yoked with the foundation of Christ.
- They will confidently walk into marriage together without fear of divorce or potential issues.
- They will assist each other in finding and walking in purpose, the purpose God has ordained for their lives.
- No representation of the enemy nor his lies shall deter them from moving forward in marriage.
- Once married, they shall remember their love for one another from the beginning, their vows, and their why, and use it to remind them during rough patches and assist in helping them through tribulations.

Those Desiring Marriage

- By faith, you will allow the Holy Spirit to guide you in finding a spouse.
- You will not grow impatient and settle for what is not ordained by God.
- You will refrain from sexual sin.
- You will continually pray and remain in the presence of the Lord.
- You will allow God to better you and work to better yourself, your patience, and your accountability and communication skills for the benefit of your future marriage.
- You will surround yourself with God-fearing and positive examples of relationships.
- Those feeling lonely shall receive love, peace, and comfort in their waiting and not become desperate.
- They will take pride in their ability to dedicate all of their time to God while not yet married, and they will not lose focus or forget about God once they do enter a new relationship or marry.
- They shall seek God's wisdom and practice discernment when meeting new people.
- They shall not allow anyone to sway their faith or influence them to do evil.
- They shall not deny or water down their faith before others out of fear of rejection.
- They shall be safe and covered when dating and rescued from temptation.
- They will not get themselves in a situation where temptation is easily imposed upon them, and they will allow God to guide them in setting stipulations for future dates, meet ups, and connections.
- By faith, they are healed from any past traumas, challenges, or setbacks in the name of Jesus.
- Any widows or widowers are healed now in the name of Jesus, and those seeking to remarry shall not be burdened with any baggage from the past. Old baggage, fears or insecurities shall not enter into their new marriages.
- By faith, they will remain in God's perfect will before, and after marriage, and they will marry the spouse God has ordained and created for them.
- You shall value yourself and your worth and not allow yourself to be disrespected out of desperation, impatience, or fear of running out of time.
- They will not allow pride, ego, vanity, bitterness from past relationships, or any other selfish and unreasonable standards to prevent them from meeting the spouse predestined for them or moving forward with said spouse.
- Those who have stepped out of God's will in the past shall sincerely repent, be forgiven, and not be hindered by their past mistakes in finding a spouse, entering marriage, or starting a family.
- You will not allow the opinions of man nor the lies of the enemy to make you feel unworthy of love or marriage.

- You will not allow circumstances or emotions to get in the way of your faith in God to bless you with a spouse when the time is right.
- You will not rush or move too quickly due to impatience or desperation, but you will take your time and move within the timeline that God has set.
- You will seek God's Kingdom first and allow the rest to be added unto you.